

Two-Day Conflict Resolution Certification Course "The Ethical Protector" May 17-18, 2022

What is the RGI Conflict Resolution Course?

The RGI Conflict Resolution course is a two-day intensive training experience for protector professionals who want to enhance their ability to de-escalate and resolve physical, verbal and cross-cultural conflict.

- Improve Community Relations
- Avoid negative publicity and civil liability issues

Top conflict resolution specialists from the law enforcement, military and martial art worlds will facilitate the course (please see bios on website). Participation in the course results in a Level I certification in RGI Conflict Resolution Skills. It is a synergistic course covering the following elements:

- Ethics - Personal Integrity and Leadership
- Communication - Verbal De-Escalation & Cross-Cultural Skills
- Physical Skills - Defensive Tactics & Protective Measures

Course Description.

This 2-day certification course utilizes a combination of lectures, group discussion, and physical training scenarios. As a participant you will:

- Develop a better understanding of moral values and ethics as they pertain to your life and profession.
- Learn to communicate better under stress to de-escalate and resolve conflict.
- Learn how to deal more effectively with cultural differences regardless of whether or not you "know" the culture.
- Enhance your technical and tactical physical protector skills and self confidence across the spectrum.

Who should attend.

This course is open to anyone:

- Law enforcement, military and other protector professionals.
- Defensive tactics instructors.
- Thought leaders who are interested in physical-moral leadership, conflict resolution and ethics.

Note: Although physical in nature, the training does not require any special level of physical fitness or previous martial arts training.
